

Unit 3 Essay Question

The following have been identified as agents of historical change: ideas, policies, conflicts, inventions, contact with the outside world, population fluctuations, and environmental change. Discuss the role of these factors in bringing about change in specific third-wave civilizations in the millennium from 500 to 1500.